YEARBOOK DEDICATION

We, The Class of 1987, would like to dedicate our yearbook to Ruth Rosenbaum for all the support and encouragement she has given us throughout the year.

YGBK (you gotta be kidding)

Cherubs & Charmers

Remember me, I teach here

In what life?

The 3 c's: Class, Couth & Culture

What am I talking, upper Mongolian?

Turkeys

That loud clanging noise was the bell.

and of course, Ladies & Gentlemen

How many are on the 5 year plan?

What do you want a medal?

Ruth Rosenbaum

Integrity-When what you do, what you say, how you live, how you think, all match.

We,
the Graduates of 1987,
How is it
that we have come together
to be the Cathedral High School Class of '87
Each of us,
unique, separate,
whole,
an individual,
came to Cathedral,
already molded,
touched, colored,
by our experiences,
the places we've been,
the cultures which are ours,
the events of our lives,
the people who have walked with us,
talked with us,
touched us.

Authentic growth leads to breakthrough
to a changed perspective to a significantly new way of seeing reality.

The change which brings about growth is not disconnected
from the past but builds on the strengths and purifies the weaknesses of what has been,
weaving the individual threads into a new fabric
in such a way
that together
with new elements
they form a fresh and original pattern.

The evolution
from one pattern to another is the process
by which persons and groups and institutions become other than what they have been,
as they are transformed, blended but yet separate,
unique within the whole.

I am that most fortunate of people for I am eternal Others live merely in the world of today; I live in the world of tomorrow Others find purpose in the transient and the temporal;
I find meaning in the enduring and eternal
For I am charged with that most sacred mission-to transmit all that our forebears lived for, loved for, and died for the next generation
I span the generations-making the wisdom of the past live now so that the future will have meaning I do not simply teach the mind I reach the heart and-when I reach the heart I reach the soul
To those who say two generations hence what will I be if not a distant memory, I respond:
Through the mind fades, memories linger Though the body fails, the spirit prevails Through the scroll burns, the letters dance in the air.

Ms. Donna Montenegro

by our time here at Cathedral goes forth

  to new color and texture and pattern to new events and times and places enriched and developed by the past without fear of the future for with hope and with promise we face the reality

  ARE THE WEAVERS
  OF THE FABRIC OF OUR LIVES.

An Ancient Rabbi once asked his pupils how they could tell when the night had ended and the day was on its way back. "Could it be," asked one student, "when you can see an animal in the distance and tell whether it is a sheep or a dog?" "No," answered the rabbi. "Could it be," asked another, "when you can look at a tree in the distance and tell whether it is a fig tree or a peach tree?" "No," said the rabbi. "Well, then when is it?" his pupils demanded. "It is when you look on the face of any woman or man and see that she or he is your sister or brother. Because if you cannot do this then no matter what time it is, it is still night." May we learn to live in the day. . . . in the light!
